

Energy Proceedings

Energy Proceedings is a peer-reviewed, open-access high-quality serial publication with bimonthly/quarterly releases, currently 5-6 volumes annually. Energy Proceedings covers a broad field of multidisciplinary subjects in energy sciences and technologies. This includes energy-related economics and social sciences, as well as policy and legal studies.

The papers published in Energy Proceedings cover focused themes and timely topics led and conducted by the editorial board. The editorial board consists of worldwide top scientists and researchers from leading universities such as Cambridge, Caltech, Berkeley, and many more <https://www.energy-proceedings.org/editorial-board/>.
